SMOKE
COOL AND DELICIOUS

SOCIETY

SOCIETY has awakened a bit this week. Incoming steamers have brought back erstwhile absent favorites, the races at Hilo are over and we have the band again, the Fourth is of the past, and with the cessation of more public events, private festivities are beginning. There have been teas, dinners, lunches and receptions this week though all have been rather in the nature of small affairs—many are still out of town and 'mong those who are not there is somewhat the mental attitude of

“Summer's here, summer's here!”
Say the people far and near,
As they swarm to hill and seashore
Wearing costumes cool but queer.

“Summer's here, summer's here—
Hence this melancholy tear;
For I can't afford the seashore,
So I must roam in town this year.”

“I hear that Miss Therese Morgan is sketching at Monterey again this year, but I am willing to wager my summer's outing that she hasn't visited the studio of Mr. Charles Rollo Peters. Miss Morgan had an experience last summer with the master of moon-scapes which bid fair to break that lady up in business as a society artist. Miss Morgan, it seems, does landscapes and seascapes merely as a ‘stunt,’ just as she plays golf and leads cotillions strenuously, and with sleeves rolled back. During the young lady's sketching expeditions last summer her casual companion was Mr. Theodore Wores, whose admiration has been embalmied in a now famous portrait. Miss Morgan, in her zealous pursuit of things artistic, made several unsuccessful attempts, I am told, to visit the holy of holies of Mr. Charles Rollo Peters, so at last she prevailed upon Mr. Wores to lead her into the presence of the master whose hatred for society amateurs is proverbial. Without consulting his friend, Mr. Wores arranged to take Miss Morgan to Mr. Peters' studio on a certain afternoon, so on the morning of the date agreed upon Mr. Wores drifted into the moonie atmosphere of the Peters' atelier.

“You are going to have a caller this afternoon,” began Mr. Wores, by way of breaking it gently.

“That's news to me,” responded Mr. Peters, spreading more lunar radiance on a picture before him.

“Yes,” explained the other, “Miss Morgan—Miss Therese Morgan—said that she'd like to see your pictures, so I invited her over.”

“This is not an art gallery, and I won't have her,” came the Peters' manifesto.

“But, you know, old fellow, I've invited her and all that.”

“Can't help it, I'm sorry to hurt anybody's feelings, Wores, but I won't have that girl stamping about my studio. If you bring her here I'll bolt my door and wheel a table against it.”

“The gentleman artist departed with lagging gait and sadly he sought out the maid who would be painter be.

What had told her, nobody knows, but I hear that Miss Morgan never looks on a Peters' nocturne with any degree of enthusiasm. She says his atmospheres are not true, and his treatment cold, and a hundred other horrid, in-artistic things.”

The Musical Club of Honolulu had its semi-monthly meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Von Holt on Wednesday evening, a most interesting program being rendered by the members.

The first number was a piano solo by Mrs. Von Holt, whose playing is always a rare treat. Mr. Coeburn's vocal solo was the first enjoyed.

Miss Van Holt and Miss Rogers sang a beautiful duet, the rich alto voice of the former lady blending delightfully with the sweet soprano of Miss Rogers.

Mr. Harry Von Holt was next on the program with vocal solo, and Mr. Von Holt was in excellent voice.

The number in which Miss Jordan and Mr. Pfleger played an instrumental duet, showed to advantage the skill of both performers.

Miss Rogers' song was also that of Mr. Anderson, who followed. Altogether, the affair was a decided success, and it is only to be regretted that the evenings are confined to members only.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. H. Von Holt, Mr. Bottomley, Misses Jordan, Miss Rodgers, Rev. E. J. Cory, Mr. C. S. Smith, Mrs. G. A. E. McClellan, Dr. and Mrs. W. G. Rogers, Dr. C. L. Garvin, Mrs. Phoebe Brown, Miss Belle Johnson, Mr. Walter N. Hubbard, Mrs. Mary L. Gardner, Mr. John Templeton, Miss Templeton, Mr. W. E. Skinner, Mr. E. S. Orr, Mrs. Mary E. McDowell, Miss Gardner or Mr. Kohala, Mr. W. M. Templeton, Mr. G. Linn, Miss Paulding, Miss Jane E. D. Linn, Miss Edward L. Thornton, Mr. Johnson, Mr. Raymond Brown, Major and Mrs. W. W. Robinson and others.

Today the luau and fair at the Drilled under the auspices of ladies of the Catholic church takes place, the purpose being to raise funds to assist Father Valentin in erecting the new chapel at Waikiki.

Mrs. F. W. Macfarlane, assisted by a corps of willing workers, have been preparing for the event, past week in a scale to attract and which will be on a scale to attract and satisfy the most exacting. As for the luau and lunch, both will be well worth the attention of those who are hungry and willing to assist the charitable purpose for which the affair is given.

The luau table will be native with all the delicacies known to native feasts. The tables will be set with fish, a la Hawaiian. There will be poi, fish in a baked in leaves, pork cooked in a baked in leaves, which only the Hawaiians know how to make, and the many little delicacies and appetizers always to be found at a luau. This table will be looked after by Mrs. H. Hiram and Mrs. Faiko. The foreign lunch table, whereon will be found delicacies pleasing to the palates of the foreign, will be in charge of Mrs. H. R. Macfarlane and Mrs. C. Du Roi. There will be a number of booths where fancy work, candies, ice cream, coffee, cigars and other odds and ends will be sold. The fancy table will be in charge of Mrs. T. Hollinger and Mrs. J. Sullivan; the lemonade booth, Mrs. A. Stewart; candy table, Mrs. Legros; coffee, ice cream and cake, Mrs. Podmore, Mrs. Macdonald, Mrs. McChesney; cigars and cigarettes, Mrs. Carroll; and pond, Mrs. Evans. Mrs. Carroll is at the head of the decorating committee, and will deck the interior with flags. The Hawaiian Band will be in attendance in the afternoon, and between their numbers the Quintet Club will supply the entrancing Hawaiian music. The Quintet Club will also play from 7 to 10 o'clock in the evening, when the floor will be cleared for dancing. The luau table will be open from 12 to 6 o'clock, and the foreign table from 12 o'clock until 4.

Mrs. Coney gave a very pretty luncheon on Friday in honor of Mrs. Austin, of Hawaii, now a visitor to Honolulu. Yellow cosmos and maiden-hair ferns were used in profusion upon the table and throughout the dining-room, making effective contrast for the rich browns of the calabashes and quaint bowls used upon the table, the luncheon being served in a Hawaiian style. Mrs. Coney's guests were Mrs. Austin of Hilo, Mrs. Herbert C. Austin, Mrs. J. S. McGrew, Mrs. O. H. Gulick and Mrs. Sam Allen.

The opening night of the World Entertainers was enjoyed by a large theater party of some twenty of society's young people, among them being Miss Marian Dillingham, Mr. Walter Dillingham, Miss Helen Macfarlane, Mr. George Fuller, Mr. Isaac Dillingham, Miss Irmgard Macfarlane, Miss Juliette King, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Brown, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Walker, Mr. Greenwood, Miss May Damon and Mr. Harry Macfarlane.

Mrs. E. D. Tenney and child, Miss Wilhelmina Tenney, Mrs. H. G. Noonan, Mrs. E. S. Cunha, Miss R. Cunha, Clarence Cunha, Mrs. George C. Beckley, Juanita H. Beckley, Miss Lucy Roth, Mrs. Cecil Brown and Dr. and Mrs. Herbert, form a jolly crowd from Honolulu, which is at present outing at Lake Tahoe.

Dr. W. T. Monsarrat, who has been in Hilo, returned home by the Kinai.

Mrs. Harold Sewall has gone East for a visit with relatives in Maine.

Mrs. Sewall was accompanied by her sister, Miss Betty Ashe, who is to go on with her vocation as nurse at Bellevue Hospital in New York.

Rev. William Morris Kincaid was on the passenger list of the Peru of Wednesday. Mr. Kincaid's vacation will be spent on the Coast, where his wife and daughter now are. While he is absent his pulpit will be filled by Rev. George Adams, of San Francisco.

Mrs. William Castle gave a tea to some fifty guests as a small welcome home to Mrs. Charles M. Cooke. During the afternoon Miss Castle charmed the guests by her playing, and Mrs. Tenney Peck sang most delightfully.

Mrs. Harold Sewall left for New York the first week in July to visit her husband's family. She will be accompanied by her sister, Miss Betty Ashe, who will resume her studies at the Presbyterian Hospital in New York.

In an article of July's Munsey on “American Art in Bronze and Iron,” there is a descriptive picture of a handsome East bronzed grille in the new San Francisco residence of Mr. and Mrs. William G. Irwin.

Mrs. Otis and her sister, Mrs. Augur, have gone to Maui for a few weeks change of climate. Mrs. Otis will be greatly missed from the choir of Central Union Church, where she has been the leading soprano.

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Wells and family have gone away for a trip of some duration abroad. Mr. Wells is the manager of Wailuku plantation.

The Aorangi brought, among its passengers for Honolulu, Mr. T. H. Lillie, of Glasgow, who will be on the Islands for a number of weeks.

Governor Dole, who, with Mrs. Dole, is at present in the Kona district of Hawaii, is improving daily, though his return home is still indefinite.

Mr. M. F. Prosser, who has been in Honolulu for the last ten days, was an outgoing passenger by the foreign steamer of Wednesday.

Mrs. W. T. Paty, Miss M. E. Paty and Master W. W. Paty, made a small party who have left town for the other Islands.

Which would seem to indicate that the Honolulu favorite is winning laurels during her present San Francisco engagement.

Mr. I. R. Burns left by the Peru for the Mainland, where he will join his wife, who is now at the Coast.

Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Young and their daughter, Mrs. Von Hamm, came home via the Mowera.

After quite a prolonged stay in San Francisco, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Raas are back in Honolulu again.

Mr. Upham, who came in as a stop-over passenger on the Maru, left for San Francisco by the Peru.

The Misses Richardson, who have been late visitors to Honolulu, went home during the week.

Miss Lillian Bacon has been the guest of Mrs. S. N. Castle for the last week in Manoa Valley.

Mrs. James T. Taylor, of Kinai street, has returned from visiting friends on East Maui.

Mr. E. C. Macfarlane and Mr. H. R. Macfarlane were incoming passengers on Sunday's Kinai.

Miss E. Sturgeon, the daughter of Mrs. H. Waterhouse, is home for her summer vacation.

Capt. Philip M. Lydig passed through the city on his way to Yokohama during the week.

The summer months will be spent by Miss Anna Paris in her Peninsula cottage.

Mrs. G. Waterhouse went to the other Islands by way of the last Cludine.

Recent San Francisco papers tell of severe injury received by Mr. George A. Knight, of the law firm of Knight & Hegarty, and who is the father of Mr. P. M. Knight, of this city. Mr. Knight, it seems, was struck by a passing wagon while he was attempting to reach his car, corner of Powell and Market streets. His left foot was badly cut, though it was discovered that no tendons had been severed.

Miss Irmgard Macfarlane leaves for her Honolulu home on the 29th of June. Miss Macfarlane has had more attention than any girl who has visited in San Francisco for many a day. She is mighty clever and talented. She has been the guest of Miss Polly Dunn, which, of course, helped to add to her popularity.—San Francisco Examiner.

Miss Carrie Castle gave a Sunday afternoon musicale on the 7th instant, which was thoroughly enjoyable, as are all entertainments in the beautiful Manoa Castle place. The program consisted of instrumental selections by Miss Castle, vocal solos by Mrs. Tenney Peck and Miss Edith Rogers, and a cornet solo by Mr. Lufkin.

Miss McLennan made a fair picture on the deck of the steamer the day the outgoing steamer carried her away, and many friends made since she has been in Honolulu, were at the wharf to bid her goodbye. She wore beautiful leis, one being twined artistically upon her pretty hair.

Ernest Koepke Jr., is another of the Island boys who have gone away to school this year. He was an outgoing passenger on the steamer of the 9th, and a number of his young friends were on hand at the departure of the vessel to deck him with leis and bid him adieu.

Mr. Philip L. Weaver Jr. is chairman of the special committee of arrangements which will plan for the “smoker” to be held at the boat-house of the Healan yachtsmen this evening from 9 to 12 o'clock.

Mr. E. Pollitz, who came to Honolulu about a year ago to take a position in the First National Bank, and who has been a guest at the Hawaiian, returned to his San Francisco home on the Peru.

News of his continued improvement in health has been received from U. S. District Attorney Baird, now in the East. Mr. Baird expects to return to Honolulu some time early next month.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Landers and their daughter, Miss Bernice Landers, are spending the summer at Catalina Island.

Mr. C. S. Holloway and bride returned to Honolulu from Hawaii, the first of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Judd were outgoing passengers by Tuesday's Island boat, Lehua.

Mr. B. F. Dillingham and daughter, Miss Marion, returned home by way of the China.

The genial face of Mr. Harry R. Macfarlane is again to be seen in Honolulu.

Mrs. A. C. Steele, who went to San Francisco some two months ago, (at the advice of her friends and physician, has been much benefited by the trip and, coming in on a recent foreign steamer, returned to her Hawaii home by way of Thursday's Kinai.

The notices of the wedding of Lieut. F. W. Kellogg were of interest to his many friends here in Honolulu. Lieutenant Kellogg's bride was a Miss Mary Thompson McConiche, of Troy, N. Y., where the ceremony occurred early in June.

The next transport will probably bring Captain Edward Davis, Artillery Corps, who is to succeed Major Ennis at Camp McKinley, as commander of the Coast Artillery garrison.

Now that that eminent artist, Mr. Theodore Wores, is in our midst, we read with interest the following amusing bit which appears in the News-Letter of June 29th:

Mr. H. A. Isenberg was on the passenger list of the last Mikahala, from Nawiliwili.

Mr. and Mrs. Clive Davies were among those who left for Hilo on Thursday.

Mrs. A. B. Wood returned from her trip to the Coast and East by way of the China.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Wundenberg were passengers on the Kinai, for this port.

After a visit to Paia, Maui, Mrs. Jas. T. Taylor is back again in Honolulu.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Allen came home on Saturday's foreign steamer.

The Fourth was spent by Mr. and Mrs. Christian Conrad at Haleiwa.

Mr. H. A. Isenberg took the steamer for Maui ports on Tuesday last.

Mr. C. D. Lufkin is making a business trip to the other Islands.

Mr. Edgar Halstead came over from Hilo on Sunday's Kinai.

Capt. W. C. Renney and bride returned on the China.

Mrs. C. H. Dickey is a visitor to her old home on Maui.
